POSITION OF THE BELGIUM-LUXEMBURG-NETHERLANDS CUSTOMS UNION CONCERNING CEREALS

For a range of agricultural products both Belgiam and the Netherlands have had in the past - and may have in the future - to take measures in order to adapt their national price-level to the level prevailing on foreign markets, or, as an alternative to adapt the latter to their home prices.

The aims have been essentially the same in both countries, but evidently there have been very considerable differences both in the scope and in the methods of giving effect to these ends.

In both countries processing industries can be obliged to mix a proportion of indigenous product with imported commodities, and in addition certain charges may be imposed on imports. Both measures are subject to variations adapting them to fluctuations of market conditions.

In the case of the Netherlands a mechanism of State Trading under art. 32 has been created by the means of which the authorities adapt actual home market prices to standard prices or adapt foreign prices to home prices, the difference being financed by means of both-ways prices - correcting charges and a central equalization fund.

The Belgian and the Netherlands systems have in common the essential principle of varying charges. The frequency of variations may be different and there are differences in organisation. In any case this principle of variability is a necessary check on excessive fluctuations of prices, and stabilityof these charges can only be attained if and in so far as the I.T.O. or F.A.O. prove successful in creating stable prices on the main commodity markets.

There is no objection on the part of the three countries concerned to negotiating on the measures forming part of their price-regulating systems.

a) those covered by the amendment to article 15 par. 3 proposed by the Netherlands, Belgian Luxemburg Delegations.

b) those operated by State Trading when applied to products falling under the scope of a Commodity Arrangement.

Strictly conditional on the acceptance of the aforesaid amendment to article 15 par. 3 and the maintenance of flexibility of price-regulating systems in State-Trading, there is no objection in binding the existing tariff-rates as applied for.

FIRST LIST OF
CONCESSIONS OFFERED BY THE NETHERLANDS-EAST-INDIES

Subject to adoption of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Explanatory note to the list of tariff concessions, offered by the Netherlands Indies

This list has been drawn up on the basis of the lists of requests, thus far received from other countries, i.e. the United States of America, the United Kingdom, China, Canada and South Africa. The list may be revised as other requests will come in, or as requests, which have already been received, will be modified or amplified.

The N.I.tariff is of a purely fiscal character. It was not designed to serve as a means for protection of domestic industries or agricultural interests. Neither does it contain any preferential rates or other restrictions concerning the importation of goods. However, the archipelago being an undeveloped as well as a warstricken country, it may at a future date be necessary to take protective measures, consistent with the provisions of the I.T.O. charter, in order to promote the establishment or reconstruction of certain industries.

As in most countries at the same stage of economic development with a mainly agricultural structure, indirect taxation - of which import duties form a part - is a much more important source of revenue than in higher developed countries, where industry and trade form the principal sources of national income. Nevertheless, keeping in mind on one hand the needs of the budget and on the other hand the interests of the consumers, the import duties are moderate and as low as the country can afford.

In consequence the N.I. Government is, generally speaking, not in a position to offer substantial reductions on the existing duties. The only important contribution which the Netherlands Indies can and will make to the proposed tariff agreement, is a consolidation of the present rates for several articles. However, in a few instances, without prejudicing the tariff-system, mentioned below, reductions have been possible.

The tariff is based on a general classification of imported goods in 4 categories:

1. raw materials (free);
2. semi-manufactured articles and auxiliary goods (9%);
3. consumers goods (18%);
4. luxury goods (30%).

Only in a few cases and on account of special circumstances an in-between rate has been adopted.

On the whole the duties are ad valorem. However, the tariff includes a limited number of specific duties, dating from pre-war days and not yet adapted to present-day-prices and to the present rate of exchange of the N.I.guilder. A revision of these duties is under consideration. For this reason no bindings with regard to specific duties have been included in the list.
